

December 2018
The Colorado River Indian Tribes
Multi Hazard Mitigation DRAFT Plan

The intent of the 2018 Colorado River Indian Tribes Multi-Hazard Mitigation Plan is to ensure our people and property are as safe as possible from the effects of future disasters (including qualifying for Federal grants) and that CRIT is eligible for Federal disaster recovery funds following a major disaster. The current Hazard Mitigation Plan is expired and must be updated. A planning team made up of representatives from the tribes' departments and adjacent agencies has met regularly to update the plan to get CRIT in compliance with the required five-year update of the Plan.

The expired Plan focused on the Reservation's most threatening hazards (flood, severe wind and wildfire) and provides a strategy to reduce or eliminate the risks from those hazards. For the updated Plan, the Planning Team has included additional hazards that were identified as a risk to the people and property of the tribe.

The Planning Team is issuing the 2018 Colorado River Indian Tribes Multi Hazard Mitigation Draft Plan and once again providing the opportunity to comment.

The draft is now out for review until December 28th, 2018. Please review and comment on the plan before we go final.
